charge of the Third street M. E.

of Huntington, Tenn.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

The President Makes a Wise Selection in the New Collector.

A representative of the Six was in Owensboro yesterday and witnessed the transfer of the collector's office from Collector Yandell to Collector Franks. The entire office had been transferred before 9 a. m.

The business-like manner in which Collector Franks assumed charge and filled all vacancies is a practical demonstration that no mistake was made in giving him the appointment.
The appointments made yesterday were as follows:

S. W. Adams, of Marion, chief deputy.

N. B. Chambers, cashier.

S. A. Halliell, division deputy,
Owensboro district.

W. J. White, stamp deputy, Paducah.

W. L. Hardigg, stamp deputy,
Uniontown.

J. W. Lillyard, stamp deputy,
Henderson.

They were all good appointments, and especially the appointment of W.
J. White, at this place. He is a young man always ready to serve his party and very popular with all classes; he will make a good officer and a credit to the present administration. Mr. White will retain his position with T. Schwab.

Ed T. Franks has at last realized a reward for the faithful and a did service he has rendered his party in this end of the state; ever ready to respond to the call of his party, he has defended its doctrines in every county in the state, never faltering, no matter the amount of self-sacrifice or expense that it necessitated. A poor boy who is an example of what push and energy can accomplish. It is an obvious conclusion that a man who can do so much for himself is capable of doing well for others.

Ed T. Franks will find that he has made a mistake in putting his affairs in the district in charge of E. J.
Franks.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

The Council In Session Again

Last Night—Several Matters Considered.

A Public Inspection of the Sewerage Arranged For Next Tuesday—Globe Democrat
Wired.

The council met last night in adjourned session, with Councilman Livingston absent.

The matter of compensating Drs.
Dillon and Sanders, in regard to their inspections of I. C. and N. C.
& St. L. trains, was brought up again. The two above claiming that the report of the Board of Health was incorrect. It was referred back to the Board of Health for adjustment.

Councilman Livingston brought up the dispatch in the Globe-Democrat from Spring Valley, Ill., in which it said Paducah was in the hands of a receiver. He said it might do Paducah incalculable harm, while in itself the telegram didn't amount to much.
Mr. Livingston presented the following resolution, which was in pursuance of orders telegraphed to the Globe-Democrat last night by City Clerk Cole:

"There appears an article or dispatch in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of Nov. 19, 1897, dated Spring Valley, Ill., on the bottom of which it is stated that Paducah, Ky., is the only city in the United States in the hands of a receiver. Therefore be it Resolved, by the mayor and council, that such article does our city a great injustice and that there is no truth in said dispatch, whatever, and that our city has for every dollar she owes $50, and we ask the Globe-Democrat to correct the said article without further delay."

Councilman Bell read a communication from the East Tennessee Telephone Company, asking permission to make some changes in the location of the poles. The request was granted.

Major Barnes said that inasmuch as the present council is soon to retire and a new administration is shortly to go in, and as the sewerage system now under course of construction will pass into new hands, and it was intimated some of the council-elect are opposed to the sewerage on general principles, he desired a day appointed for a thorough inspection of the system, and desired invite the mayor and council-elect, newspaper representatives, and all other good citizens to attend. The inspection will be made under the direction of Contractor White, Consulting Engineer Elliott and City Engineer Wilcox, and the day set is next Tuesday, a week from today, at 2:30 o'clock. An invitation is hereby extended to all to witness the inspection and see for themselves the perfection of the system.

All who desire to attend will meet at the city hall at the time named above, and it is hoped all interested will come out and have all doubt as to the success of the sewerage dissipated.

The petition for relief from over-assessment of Mr. John Edelin on his stock was brought up, and on motion it was reduced from $1500 to $500, when the petitioner takes oath that the latter sum is correct.

The city's proportion of the bill of $12.65 from A. S. Aloe & Co. for repairs to City Engineer Wilcox's surveying instrument, which was run over by Contractor Chamblin, was allowed.

The council adjourned to meet again next Monday.

The Jefferson street improvement ordinance was not brought up.

Thomas Adams, a well known farmer of Lovelaceville, this county, was seriously, if not fatally injured at Waltman's wagon-yard, on Jefferson street, between Fourth and Fifth, about 11 o'clock this morning. He was driving into the stable on top of a load of goods, when he perceived that a cross beam would strike him.
He stooped over to avoid it, and at the same instant the wagon struck an elevation and forced him violently against the beam, which struck him across the back.

He fell over and all possible assistance was at once rendered him, Dr.
Reddick being called. He was placed on a cot in the office, and this afternoon was suffering great pain from spinal injuries received. He DID NOT SURVIVE.

Conductor Frank Gallanux No More.

Conductor Frank Gallanux, who was injured on the Evansville division of the Illinois Central Saturday, and brought here and had a limb amputated, died at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Illinois Central hospital as a result of his injuries. The latter were inflicted in some unaccountable manner by a brake hook, tearing the skin and grinding sand into the flesh in such a manner that amputation was necessary.

Conductor Gallanux was one of the most popular employees of the road, and lived here about three years ago. He recently resigned the position of yardmaster at Memphis and returned to Paducah, subsequently accepting a position on the Evansville division.

The deceased was 31 years of age, and unmarried. He leaves a father at Lima, Ohio, and his own home was formerly at Henderson, Ky., although he was born at Lima.
He was educated for the priesthood, but decided early in life that this wouldn't suit him, and went into the railroad business. He leaves a brother, formerly of the city, who was in Canada when last heard from.

A meeting of the Order of Railwa-Conductors was held this morning and the father of the deceased was telegraphed as to what disposition will be made of the remains. No reply had been received this afternoon, but the probability is they will be shipped to Lima for interment.

THE OWN DEAR SON OF ONE OF THE COUNCIL-ELECT WAS DEFEATED FOR OFFICE, AND NOW THE FATHER, ACCORDING TO REPORTS, MAY DECLINE TO QUALIFY AS A MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL.

If a Republican administration had nominated the slate the Democratic Council-elect has arranged, the Democratic papers would be busy looking up police court records for the edification of the public.

MAYOR YEAGER says he will be glad to leave the public service next month, but he is successor and the Democratic Council will be much gladder two years hence, if they keep the pace they have started.

The Council has decided on exactly the right course in the sewerage matter. A public inspection will satisfy all who witness it that our system is all right, and for those who fail to witness the test there is no excuse, as everybody is invited.

It is now said that the Council-elect has nominated two Republicans, one who is at present holding office under a Republican administration, and another who was elected to one of the best paying positions on the calendar.

One object of the recent conference of Democrats at Louisville was to place a hundred thousand dollars of stock to secure the permanence of the Louisville Dispatch. The silver leaders deserve commendation for one thing. They recognize the influence of a good newspaper.

POSTMASTER General Gary is strongly in favor of postal savings banks. He says the people who will not trust the banks will trust the United States, and then the people who have small savings with no place for deposit, have several hundred million dollars, which is lying dead, and would be brought to life by the aid of the postal bank—because idle money is dead—and this money would be put into circulation through these banks.

The probable annexation of Hawaii and the possible acquisition of Cuba by the United States would if consummated impart a wonderfully invigorating influence to our coasting trade and would do a vast deal towards restoring to America her former equality on the high seas. The immense increase of the coasting trade which would follow the annexation of these two wonderfully fertile islands, would start America to ship building again, and once the Americans begin ship building, the English monopoly of that vast industry will be threatened, if not destroyed.

CONGRESSMAN C. A. TOWNE, of Minnesota, and chairman of the National Committee of Free Silver Republicans, declares that, in view of the failure of the Wolcott commission to Europe to secure bimetalism, that "the crisis has come." Mr. Towne is the ablest advocate of free silver that came into prominence in the campaign of last year. No one knows better than Mr. Towne that free silver can stand only one more defeat, and no one knows better than he that as an issue, in its present form, it will probably not endure until 1903. Of a truth the crisis for free silver is here.

THE Democratic papers are giving columns of rubbish about the situation in Ohio, and are telling their readers that Senator Hanna will not be elected. This stuff is hardly good nonsense. There is no Republican in Ohio who expects a future who would refuse to vote for Mark Hanna. He will be elected on the first ballot. There is a man named McKissin, one of these would-be bosses,

TRAGEDY IN REAL LIFE

A Graphic Story Concerning the Fate of a Young Lady.

Here is a graphic narrative from real life showing how many of our friends when we love, may be on the verge of a great tragedy.

A young girl residing on Madison Avenue, New York, and who had been in society but a short time, was preparing to attend a ball for which great preparations had been made.

She was in her own room on the second floor over the tailor, and called down to her mother regarding certain matters connected with her new dress.

The mother answered, but received no response, nor did she receive a word of reply to her continued questions. The mother therefore climbed the stairs, and found her daughter lying dead upon the side of the sofa.

As is usual in all cases of sudden death, heart disease was assigned as the cause, but a careful examination by competent physicians revealed the terrible fact that the young lady had her death in her hand by the disease of the kidneys.

The above painful incident is related precisely as it occurred, the names of the parties only being suppressed to protect their privacy.

The story is related to impress the fact of how many people there are, who are in poor health, and yet actually on the verge of the grave. Kidney diseases are the most dangerous and the most dangerous of all.

A PAPER read at the recent meeting of the American Cotton Manufacturers in Philadelphia contains some very interesting statistics as to the cotton goods trade of the world.

It is practically in the hands of four countries and divided about as follows: Great Britain $3,32,331,000; Germany $1,742,000; France $2,757,000; United States $19,840,000.

The surprising thing about these figures is that Great Britain, without a pound of native raw cotton, should spin and weave over 77 per cent of the cotton goods purchased by other nations, while the United States, which produces over half of all the cotton grown in the world, supplies less than 5 per cent of the manufactured cotton which other countries buy. Over 55 per cent of the world's trade in cotton is in the hands of Great Britain, Germany and France, neither of which raises a pound of cotton at home, and all are dependent on the United States for their raw fiber.

known complaints. Their subtle poisons steal into the system like a thief, manifesting few if any symptoms, and usually no pain whatever, then suddenly, without warning, they announce their presence by a chill, and eventually, too often, a death.

In many cases they assume the symptoms of other diseases and a vast number of headaches, colds, chills, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and feverishness trace their cause to deranged kidneys or deranged liver organs. Very often this tendency to Bright's disease is hereditary.

The young ladies of the First Baptist church will give a musical concert at the residence of R. V. K. Perdue.

ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT FAULT.

The girl with pensive eyes, and a sweet, sad smile, allowed both of these features to have full play as she announced that her engagement had come to an untimely end.

"I broke it, of course," she said pensively, "and I really don't think any of you will blame me, when I tell you how it happened. You know that Tom and I were going on the straw ride to Cold Springs, didn't you? Well, we went; and it was while we were out there that I definitely decided that all had better be broken off between us. I'm awfully sorry for Tom, but I really couldn't help it."

"What did he do? Make love too openly, or refuse to let you flirt?" queried the listeners in chorus, and the plaintive girl shook her head sadly.

"Neither," she responded, "but with melancholy satisfaction: 'I'm worse than either—in a way. I could respect a man who was jealous, but a man with no more sense than Tom—to let such an opportunity go by him and never try to improve it, would never satisfy my nature, I know. Just let me tell you how stupid I was:'"

"The ride out was lovely, although I didn't enjoy it much, personally. We were so crowded, you see, and I like—well, quiet conversation, you know, at such times. But when we left the wagon 'we somehow or other managed to lose the others, as I had warned Tom into a fit."

"They'll think we missed them on purpose," he kept repeating, just as if that wasn't the very thing they were all trying to do in regard to us and each other. So he insisted upon playing searchlight, and when we didn't find anyone he was literally miserable. Actually he never paid me as much attention as he would a rabbit, much less any nice things to me."

"Well, our hunt after a while, proved successful, and who should we see in the distance engaged in a lively tete-a-tete but a fellow with his eye and best girl. So after after them Tom and I knew they were simply choking with rage—and persisted in sitting up with them and riding back home the same way with them, so as not to create any ill feeling—to be so-called you know, I didn't say anything then—I was paralyzed, completely—but I realized at once that a man so tactless and silly as that would never make me happy in the world, and back went his partner the next morning."

METROPOLIS MARAUDERS.

Our Sister City Suffering From Burglars.

Garrett Simmons Held $150 Stolen Last Night.

Metropolis is troubled with burglars. Saturday night they broke into several residences and stole $6 and a watch from Gene Lafont, and last night they made several other raids. At Garrett Simmons they broke in and stole the slumbering citizens' pants, in one pocket of which there was $150. The burglars were left hanging on the back fence, indicating that the thieves didn't need them.
They also broke into the residence of a man named Benjamin and took his trousers, but found nothing in them, and left them hanging on the fence.

THE 'COKE' HABIT.

It Elicits Some Timely and Genuine Remarks From Judge Sanders—A Friend In Court.

Judge Sanders Announces He Is Going to Make a Change—Police Court Doings.

Judge Sanders, in commenting on the cases before him this morning, made an announcement that will be very displeasing to violators of the law. He declared that he intended hereafter to be more strict and run his court on different principles from those to which it has been run heretofore. He said that during the next four years he was going to break up lawlessness to the extent of his ability, and was going to begin at once by the abolition of leniency.
The most important case on the docket was against Ernest Claude, colored, charged with maliciously cutting Florence Thompson. It appears from the evidence that he became jealous because the woman put Will Tucker's hat on, and slashed her across the thigh. The wound was not deep, and he claims it was inflicted accidentally. The woman evinced a disposition to scream him, and the case was left open to hear Tucker's testimony.
A question that is destined to play an important part in the criminal practice of the country came up in the police court this morning.
Charley Brown, a big, indolent looking negro, sat stupidly in one corner of the prisoners' dock with his heavy head resting on his hands, oblivious to everything about him.
"I hereby call the attention of this audience," remarked the court half facetiously, "to that thing over there in the corner. He is full of 'coke,' I believe the darkies call it. He was arrested last night—several hours ago—but you can see for yourself that he is still under the influence of the deadly drug.
"The cocaine habit, or 'coke,' as they call it, is increasing with startling rapidity, and it is now the popular bad with colored people of dissipated inclinations, and with some white people, I understand. It is the cheapest and quickest way they have of getting drunk, and hundreds of their right here in Paducah can't do without it, from what I can learn. It's a wonder some of them don't die, as I understand it is a poison, but they don't.

"Now this man was arrested last night, but I don't know what to do with him. I don't know whether the law includes intoxication from cocaine, when it says 'drunkenness,' or not, or whether it simply means too much wine, beer, whiskey or something else. I guess I'll let this man go." And the man was allowed to depart, although he did go with difficulty.
Win. Bider, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in the city last evening looking for his 16-year-old daughter, who came to the city to accept a home with a family out near LaBelle park. She disappeared and is said to have been located in an East Court street house. The matter was reported to the police by the distressed father, but the girl could not be found.

Rev. W. E. Cave has let a contract for the erection of a handsome residence near Ninth and Madison, to cost $3000. Mr. Al Hymarsh secured the contract.
Ella Pyles, a street from Cairo, was charged with drawing a razor on Kate McCannion. Some evidence was heard, but the case was left open in order that it can be more clearly established that she had a razor.

John Doe, of Maysville, Ky., was up for vagrancy. He is a gray headed man, and looks that air of total degradation so evident in the average tramp. He said he came here to get employment on the government works at Brooklyn. He was told to go and try to get work somewhere.

The case against Wm. Rommel for a breach of the peace was continued.

Jas. Sherrell, colored, for using insulting language, was fined $1 and costs.

The funeral of the late Mr. J. J. Guthrie took place from the First Baptist church this morning at 10 o'clock.

The greater part of the day in the circuit court has been consumed in calling the docket. In the case of the First National Bank against Oliver Allard, judgment for $1072 was rendered.

Divorce judgments were rendered in the cases of Wm. Brown vs. Lovina Brown, and Lillie Daniels vs. Allen Daniels.

It is rumored that Mr. H. E. Thompson, formerly editor of the News, will start a new paper in Paducah. He has had three months to the city hall barefooted. The officers said his feet were swollen and he could not get them into his boots. One man said he came down the Ohio and the other claimed he came down the Tennessee. The third man escaped. They occupied a good boat, about thirty-five feet long, and this the police took possession of, also a load of wheat, consisting of fourteen sacks. The men arrested are very insolent, and refuse to give any information concerning themselves. They were attempting to dispose of the plunder, and the police are very anxious to learn from whom it was stolen. The man who had no shoes wears glasses.

Mike and Tom Benn, of the Florence Station neighborhood, were brought in today by Constable McKee to be tried for trespass.
